PROBLEM

THE PROBLEM

RESTAURANTS

45%

of seat capacity sits unused in Spain.

No visibility. Customers don't know they exist.

Can't market. No time, no skills, no budget.

Trapped reach. Actively looking for clients using low-visibility street blackboards.

FOODIES

products built for the new-gen foodie.

Fragmented discovery. Social, Maps, word of mouth, nothing curated.

Ugly deals. Unattractive offers in unattractive places.

Missing out. They miss great deals & the spots that offer them.

No platform engages the customer directly. menuverso does.

SOLUTION

THE SOLUTION

menuverso connects foodies ready to discover new places with restaurants looking for new clients. One app, one subscription.

FOODIES SAVE

EXPANSION

SPAIN IS THE GATEWAY

Barcelona → Madrid & Valencia → Lisbon → the Americas. One launchpad, one language, one food culture.

WHY NOW

Shared language & food culture make Spain the natural springboard into Latin America. The easy, low-friction route into South America and the US Hispanic market.

menuverso

A group of five people are seated around a wooden table in a restaurant, enjoying a meal. The table is set with various dishes including omelets, fried food, and small bowls of olives. There are also glasses of beer and water. The background shows a busy restaurant interior with other patrons and a bar area. Chalkboard menus are visible on the wall, listing items like PERNIL, BRAVAS, VERMUT, and CERVESA with prices in Euros.
